Dedication

We, the Staff of 1929, do hereby dedicate this Ashlar to the first Senior
Graduating Class of Ozark Wesleyan
College.

May the ideals of their Alma Mater be their guiding star through life.

Miss Mary L. Clerkin, a graduate of the Metropolitan School of Music of Indianapolis, Indiana, and a pupil of Hugh McGibney of that school, has been added to the faculty of Ozark Wesleyan as assistant in the violin department.

The addition was necessary because of the heavy schedule of the department. Miss Pauline Smith, professor of violin, will now devote her time to the harmony and composition classes in addition to directing the orchestra.

ARTHUR T. MITCHELL

Mitchell is an all-around college man. Besides editor of the year book he is associate editor of the Wesleyan Whistler. Arthur is vice-president of the Student Council, member of the Johnson Club, a Philomathean and secretary of the Spanish Club.

He was an Ozark Wesleyan pioneer in the "Barracks" in 1924-25.

As a track man he is a distance runner. "Bob's" a success.

C. RUSSEL McCAULEY

McCauley is a worthy person for this honored position, he is capable of such a responsibility. Russell is also business manager of the college paper which will testify to his business ability. McCauley is popular throughout school. He is a member of the mens' honorary club, the Johnson Club, a member of the YMCA, the O. W. Choir and president of the Philomathean.

We trust that into whatever Russell goes he will be a success.

Editor's Report

The Ashlar staff had a hard time getting organized. First the business manager previously elected failed to return this year. Next, the editor left school. The business manager then elected had too many responsibilities to assume more, so the class went out of their body to ask a sophomore to serve.

At last, about the last of October, the Ashlar Control met and selected the various assistants. As soon as the staff met, action began.

Notices appeared and announcements were made, pictures were taken and sittings arranged.

Russell Benedict helped wonderfully by sketching nearly all of the zinc etchings used. Thelma Marsh assisted in the snapshot collecting and Cecil Ritchey turned a helping hand to the advertising manager.

Of course, there were many, many others who have helped in special ways to compile this book, though their names do not appear here, but they may rest assured that those who know fully appreciate their help.

A word of commendation is due to each member of the staff. One of those who has devoted much of her time to the Ashlar work is Birdie Mae Kreisel. She has served efficiently and willingly in more ways than as society editor. Philip Hannum has served to the full extent both as Asst. Bus. Mgr. and as athletic editor; Agnes Kerr guided the two sales campaigns with telling results; Ida Allendorf has helped in several capacities besides carrying double offices; Wilbur Longstreth had his alumni research in full and on time; Joy Doty's snapshot pages will speak for her efforts; Francis Wisegarver had done her helping by overseeing the art work; Jennie Louise Potts served in the Fine Arts department also in gathering of information. The book could not be published without the advertiser's support and this in itself speaks for Louis Proctor. The associate editor will remember her labor by perusing these pages and not least, comes the smiling moral support of our sponsor, Prof. Fred E. Miles.

And now in closing I wish to thank all of those with whom I have come in contact for their help and support, especially my pal, Russell McCauley, the Bus. Mgr.

Class History

On September 15, 1925, approximately 102 young men and women, the makings of the class of '29, made their appearance in the classrooms of the "little brown building" known as Ozark Wesleyan College.

It would be a long, tedious job to bring out all the little details of the various activities which go to make up the history of this famous class.

During our four short years of college life, we find that some of our members have strayed from the fold and that others have filled their places. In spite of these many changes that come in every college student's life, the majority of the Senior class is a part of the same group that entered originally. The class has a broader view and perspective upon life and a better understanding of those things which make life worth while.

And now, as we set forth into this busy and beautiful world, of which college is such a marvelous part, to see what the future holds for us and to bring honor to ourselves and to our Alma Mater, we, the first Senior Class of Ozark Wesleyan, leave with the best of wishes to those classes which follow us, to our instructors and to our Ozark Wesleyan.

All please rise and sing as Miss Bringgold plays—

There's A Long, Long Trail

Nights are growing very lonely,

All night long I hear you calling

Days are very long;

Calling sweet and low;

I'm a-growing weary only

Seem to hear your footsteps falling,

List'ning for your song.

Ev'ry where I go.

Old remembrances are thronging

Tho' the road between us stretches

Thro' my memory

Many a weary mile.

Till it seems the world is full of dreams I forget that you're not with me yet,

Just to call you back to me.

When I think I see you smile.

CHORUS:

There's a long, long trail a-winding

Into the land of my dreams,

Where the nightingales are singing

And a white moon beams;

There's a long, long night of waiting

Until my dreams all come true;

Till the day when I'll be going

Down that long, long trail with you.

Class History

We, the class of 1930, have by our progressive spirit helped blaze the trail for Ozark Wesleyan College. It has been through diligent study and clear vision that we have been able to overcome and conquer the difficulties of the past. The Junior Class has taken part in all activities of the college, having the greatest number of members in the Rho Alphas, Johnson Club and Student Council. The splendid record of the past is the assurance of a more glorious.

Our motto is "Keep Climbing!"

As you journey, ever onward
Through life's joy or earthly gloom
You are pressing quickly forward
Into life's own great workroom;
And the world will toss and throw you
Turn its back upon your face
Yet, will kneel and bow and praise you
When you've gained the highest place.

Roy Galen Beadle

Galen Beadle was born July 4, 1908 in Weir, Kansas. Although most of his life his home was in Carl Junction, Missouri, he graduated from the Joplin High School in 1927. He spent the years 1927—1929 in Ozark Wesleyan College specializing in chemistry preparatory to entering a college of medicine.

He was instantly killed while sled riding, Sunday, February 10, 1929. The funeral was conducted February 13, in his own boyhood church at Carl Junction where he had faithfully served during his life. Interment was in Mount Hope Cemetery.

His presence in Ozark Wesleyan was an inspiration to all those with whom he came in contact, especially to his fellow classmates, the Juniors, who attended the funeral in a body as a last earthly tribute to an intimate friend.

Class History

For two years the part of the student body, now classed as Sophomores, has had scores of representatives in every activity in the school and, in most cases, the "stars" in such organizations were from this number. This class has been most fortunate in having such capable students as Robert Buxton and Philip Hannum as president of the class.

For two years the tennis team has been from this class—this being but one example of how Sophomores are prominent and often excel in school activities.

Soon we will be upperclassmen and shall obtain that certain air of distinction but the memories of the days when we were lower classmen will linger, for they were happy and successful ones.

Class History

When we, the class of 1932, entered O. W. C., we readily grasped the true Wesleyan spirit, which we have carried with us throughout the year. Early in the year we met and elected officers and since that time our class has made very note-worthy progress under the able leadership of Carl Jenkins and Max Colson, who succeeded Jenkins the second semester.

Our class is well represented in athletics, as it is in all other school organizations—we proved this fact by winning the track meet, staged between the Freshmen and the Upper-Classmen.

Having a bright past, a wonderful present and a clear future, our class feels that it is bound to bring great achievements and make O. W. C. better in general by our presence.

Alumni

Ozark Wesleyan Alumni Association

REV. C. P. MILLS, President

Kansas City, Missouri

MR. RALPH McK. BREWER, Sec-Treas.

Warrenton, Missouri

The Alumni Association includes every graduate from Ozark Wesleyan since 1871. The membership is about seven hundred men and women who are proud of and loyal to the traditions and customs of Ozark Wesleyan College so each member is interested in the future welfare of his Alma Mater.

Ozark Wesleyan College is the inheritor of three institutions; Carleton College, at Farmington, Missouri which was united with Marionville College, in 1885. The Arkansas Conference College, at Siloam Springs which was united with Marionville College. The Marionville College which became the property of the St. Louis Conference of the Methodist Church in 1871. Each of these institutions served well its day as is evidenced by the large number of alumni who are serving in positions of honor in the church, in business and in the state.

The first alumni member graduated from Marionville College Class of '78. Every year since then with the exception of year '82, each class is represented in the Alumni Association.

The Alumni Association meets annually on Home Coming Day at Ozark Wesleyan College. Any graduate or former student of these schools should feel at home on the campus of Ozark Wesleyan College.

A few of the outstanding members of the Alumni are mentioned below.
It will be noted the names of women are few, perhaps this is because many of them are kept busy helping their husbands become noted.

A Million Dollars For Our College

Ozark Wesleyan College has a real place in the hearts of her students, faculty, and friends, and to those of us who are near the heart of this growing institution, one million dollars is but a challenge to our faith and generosity. It is true that we are undertaking a large task in assuming to raise one million dollars but when we consider the importance of a Christian College in this day and the service which Ozark Wesleyan College has rendered in days gone by we can do no less than go forward in this heroic way.

We are building foundations for the future. Foundations are important and should be well builded if they are to last. Ozark Wesleyan College is in its beginnings and these are days of foundation building. The Million Dollar Program is a movement to stabilize and make sure the future of Ozark Wesleyan College.

The question has been asked, "What will be done with the million dollars when raised?" There are several answers to this question for the needs of the college are varied, but the first and foremost purpose is to provide an endowment of five hundred thousand dollars which is required for entrance into the North Central Association of Colleges. This is a day of standardization and the College that does not meet the standardizing requirements of the day has little hope for the future. Ozark Wesleyan would now be an accredited College as far as scholastic work and educational equipment are concerned but she does lack sufficient endowment to be recognized by the North Central Association. Once this financial requirement is met the administrative heads can go before the North Central Association with confidence that Ozark Wesleyan College will be recognized as a stable institution in every way and will be admitted as a member of this all-important Association. This will be an outstanding and far-reaching achievement and it is the earnest desire of all those in any way connected with the college and its work that the friends of Christian Education will give of their means to bring this result about.

Any school, in order to serve its student body, must have adequate buildings and funds for the maintenance of its organization. As the endowment is being enlarged in this Million Dollar Program so at the same time is the fund for maintenance and buildings being secured. In other words, the Million Dollar Program is a movement which will secure funds for endowment, buildings and maintenance funds. Our belief is that it is only a question of time until all these hopes for the future are fulfilled and we are eagerly awaiting the hour when it can be announced to the world that Ozark Wesleyan College has reached its goal and a fund of One Million Dollars has been secured with which to enlarge its service and broaden its horizons.

No truer men and women serve any cause than those who serve the cause of Christian education. Consecrated men and women of ministry and laity are giving of their time, and their influence to keep such colleges as Ozark Wesleyan College alive, and it is a matter of pride that the leaders of the Million Dollar Program of Ozark Wesleyan College are men and women of this character. At the last session of the Board of Trustees in June 1928 the program to raise one million dollars was authorized and Dr. Louis M. Potts, Vice President, was named as the Director of this program. At the session of the St. Louis Conference held in Butler, Missouri, last October the Board of Education of the Conference approved the Million Dollar Program and asked the churches of the Conference to support it to their best ability. The Million Dollar Program Committee is headed by Attorney Allen McReynolds of Carthage as General Chairman; Judge Frank L. Gass of Carterville, Mo., Vice-Chairman; Mr. O. E. Proctor of Carthage, Chairman of the Carthage City Committee; Dr. Louis M. Potts, Vice President of the College, Director, Secretary, and President Wm. Wirt King. Under the leadership of these men the Program has gone steadily forward and as the Ashlar goes to press the Million Dollar Program is well past the half way mark with $525,000.00 subscribed. The very gracious and generous gift of Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Green in the amount of $150,000.00 has swelled the total to the above figure and greatly encouraged and heartened those connected with the College and its financial program. By June 1, 1930 a total of one million dollars is expected to be raised.

Under the Committee organization a staff of experienced and able workers is being used in securing these funds. Reverend R. N. Jones has been with the College since July 1928 and has been a real force in helping our friends make their gifts. Reverend Leland H. Koewing joined the Million Dollars Program staff in October and since then has been in the field collecting old pledges and securing new ones. His enthusiasm and consecration have won many friends and a goodly number of substantial gifts. Miss Emma Knell, a much loved Carthage woman who has served in many community and state projects of philanthropic nature, has been giving her fine abilities to this Program and at present is leading the Women's Auxiliary in their Carthage canvass. We are happy to report that the Women's Auxiliary with Miss Knell as leader has been a vital factor in the success of the Carthage canvass. Mr. Orie Snyder has been representing the Million Dollar Program under the insurance plan and although he has secured gifts of other nature his chief concern has been in writing insurance contracts. Publicity in any financial campaign is essential and Mr. Maynard Durham, of Carthage, has been directing the publicity most satisfactorily. To all of these we give due credit for whatever success has been attained and as the Program advances their usefulness will increase.

In order to stimulate interest on the part of the students in the Million Dollar Program an essay contest was held in which some twenty-one students participated. The subject of the essay was, "The Value of the Million Dollar Program to Ozark Wesleyan College." Prizes in the amounts of $20.00, $10.00, $5.00, $3.00, and $2.00 were awarded the winners in respective order. Miss Thelma Marsh, a sophomore, has the distinction of winning first prize; Mr. Lawton Stukey, a senior, second; Miss Ruth Linn, a junior, third; Mr. Arthur Mitchell, a junior, fourth; and Miss Bernice Merrill and Miss Virginia Irwin, juniors, tied for fifth place. The essay of Miss Marsh, winning first place, is herewith presented to the readers of the "Ashlar."

*Prize Winning Essay on Million Dollar Program*THE VALUE OF THE MILLION DOLLAR PROGRAM TO OZARK WESLEYAN COLLEGE*"Out of Christian Schools Come Christian Leaders"*

For the past five years, Ozark Wesleyan College has made such notable progress that today we find a beautiful building in place of the former "barracks." The students are just as fine, true and dependable as the building. But there is something seriously needed to make this school the ideal place for college work, and that is the successful completion of the Million Dollar Program.

What is meant by the Million Dollar Program? By this plan is meant that Ozark Wesleyan will be a member of the North Central Association of Colleges when the required endowment of one-half million dollars is secured; that, with the remaining money the building and equipment program will be enlarged and the provision for the deficit in maintenance will be assured. Through pledges, annuities, insurance, endowment, and scholarships this should be done.

This school has a decided advantage over a larger college or university, in that each student knows his fellow students and professors well, such contact being inestimable in dollars and cents. The entire organization is like one great family. The religious influence in such a school as this is invaluable, and surely such a splendid, small college with a good faculty and earnest student body deserves the support and co-operation of all good citizens.

Now the school is striving to reach this most important goal, the completion of the Million Dollar Program. In this great plan our school will be recognized as a member of the North Central Association of Colleges which is the standardizing agency of education in the middle west. Being a member of such an organization will mean that Ozark Wesleyan will be a standard college, and that every college in the country will accept the work done in this school. With this recognition, students will be able to change their school residence or to take more advanced work in other schools without loss of credit for the work done in Ozark Wesleyan College. An accredited four-year college of this type, too, will draw many students from Carthage and surrounding territory who otherwise could not afford to "go away" to school. When such young people have only this opportunity for higher education, how happy we should all feel in being able to help in this great work of enlightening the world.

As the student body grows, it will be necessary to offer new departments and courses, and parallel with this comes the necessity of a larger teaching staff, and finally additional buildings will be needed. What a rare opportunity for developing Ozark Wesleyan College into the highest ranking seat of education in the middle west.

Ozark Wesleyan College when standardized will attract students from families whose interests are based on the finer things of life. Students from such families demand a school that is classed with the larger colleges and universities. Such a demand must be met by those people interested in Christian education and the forwarding of Christian principles. Do not we all want to share in reaching the required endowment to make Ozark Wesleyan an accredited college?

—Thelma Marsh.

All Hail Blue and Gold

All hail Blue and Gold, thy colors unfold,
O'er loyal Wesleyan's with hearts strong and bold,
All hail Blue and Gold, thy strength ne'er shall fail
For thee will die, all hail, all hail.

All hail Blue and Gold, to thee we shall
Thru countless ages thy praises we'll sing.
All hail Blue and Gold, on breezes ye sail;
Thy sight we love, all hail, all hail.

The addition was necessary because of the heavy schedule of the department. Miss Pauline Smith, professor of violin, will now devote her time to the harmony and composition classes in addition to directing the orchestra.

COACH MERRELL A. COLLARD

Coach M. A. Collard, who is completing his second year as the tamer and trainer of the Ozark Wesleyan Lions, has established in this time a strong friendship and good-will for his department and for himself among the students and faculty members of the college. With the exception of foot-ball, he has sent unusually strong teams into the field to represent Ozark Wesleyan. The basket-ball team was one of the fastest in the district; the 1928 track team made an excellent record, and the 1928 basketball team gave a good account of itself.

Coach Merrel A. Collard received his A.B. degree at Missouri Wesleyan of Cameron, Missouri, in 1921. In the intervening years between 1921 and 1927 when he became the O. W. mentor, Coach Collard was coach at Fairfield (Ill.) High School, head coach at Central Wesleyan College, at Warrenton, Missouri, and spent one year in the automobile business in Carmi, Illinois. He served in the army during the World War with the rank of sergeant. As member of high school and college teams he compiled an enviable record.

Football

The Lions should win nine football games next year. In 1927 they crashed through to one victory in seven starts. In 1928 they tripled the 1927 performance by hanging up three glorious triumphs in eight games. If the Lions will only repeat this feat of tripling the previous season's victories each year a history-making team ought to appear on the field next year.

One of the most notable events of last grid season was the Homecoming victory of the Lions over the Fort Scott Junior College, 13 to 6. This game was one of the most interesting battles seen on any gridiron in the district, featured by the offensive punch of Ozark Wesleyan. Another worth-while game was at Muskogee where Ralph Ross dashed 85 yards to Bacone's 1-yard line after intercepting an Indian pass on Ozark Wesleyan's 14-yard line. When Carrie McBee went over for a touchdown a few minutes later the Lions earned a 6 to 0 victory over their Indian rivals.

The Lions had the satisfying experience of burying another ancient rival, the the Southwest Baptists, under a landslide, 37 to 0, on the Ozark Wesleyan field. The Miami game which opened the season should have gone also to Ozark Wesleyan, for the Lions showed much more power than the Miners. O. W. C. lost the ball on its own 3-yard line in the last five minutes of play when a touchdown would have produced at least a tie.

There is certainly no criticism to be made of the Lions who took part in the games nor of Coach Collard for any reverses during the season. It is impossible to build a formidable football machine with only 15 to 18 men out for practice each evening. All in all it was an entertaining season, win or lose.

Ben Jarrett, quarterback, led the Lion's scorers with 18 points for the season. Otis McGaughey, fullback, was second with 13 counters and Fred Allen, halfback, accounted for 13. The other points were McBee, half-back, six; Kenneth Lytle, end, six; Ralph Ross half-back and end, one.

VERNON BRADFORD

Vernon Bradford has served faithfully since his election last September as the efficient head yell-leader of the college through the football and basket ball seasons. This is his third year in the college.

He is a member of the student government. He takes a leading part in arranging and playing in those preliminary basketball games which are the delight of the college students. In his freshman year he was the runner-up in the college tennis tournament, and last year he was a member of the tennis squad. Vernon has served several semesters as sports editor of the Whistler and is associated with those organizations in the college which stand for progress and character.

Basketball

Out of nearly new material Coach M. A. Collard this year constructed a cage squad which compiled one of the finest records made by an Ozark Wesleyan team in any past year. Only one game did this team lose in the official basketball season, and only one practice game, played early in December with the varsity team of the Pittsburg Teachers' College.

In spite of the fact that Pittsburg buried them under a one-sided score the Lions set such a fast pace in the January-February season that they completed their schedule with an average of 22 points a game as compared with an average of 28 points for their opponents in the eight games of 1929. This splendid average was good for seven victories and one defeat.

The best game of the season was probably that with the Northeast Oklahoma Junior College on the local court. On this occasion the Lions taught their opponents so much about basketball that Northeast defeated them when a return game was played at Miami. Another feature of the season was a two-day trip to Bolivar and Jefferson City. At Bolivar the Lions administered their second punishment of the year to the Southwest Baptist College, 36 to 31. The following night at Jefferson City, the Jefferson City Junior College Bears were victims of the highest score made by the Lions during the year, 23 to 43. The two victories over Bolivar this year evened an old score with the Baptists who defeated the Lions twice in 1927.

At the opening of the second semester the Lions lost their captain and star guard, Vic Woods, who did not re-enter college. His loss was keenly felt the remainder of the season.

Tennis

Tennis, as an interscholastic activity, was taken up for the first time by Ozark Wesleyan students in 1928. A team was organized early in the spring under the direction of Coach M. A. Collard and three matches with other colleges were scheduled. The Lions ran through these matches—two with Fort Scott and one with the University of Arkansas Freshmen—without a defeat. Four members of the team—Grosshart, the winner of the college tournament, Hannum, the runner-up, Dennison, and Rose—were awarded letters for service in the matches.

Fort Scott sent two doubles teams to Carthage for the first match. Grosshart and Hannum defeated Gench and Hewitt, of Fort Scott, 6-2, 6-3, 6-2. Dennison and Rose turned back Hubbard and Smith, 0-6, 6-0, 6-3, 4-6, and 7-5. In a return match at Fort Scott, Ozark Wesleyan won three matches to two over their opponents, Dennison and Rose winning their doubles match with Grosshart and Hannum each winning singles.

Later in the season at Fayetteville, Arkansas, Grosshart and Hannum made a clean sweep of the Arkansas freshmen team by winning a doubles match and two singles.

All the letter men, except Vic Rose, are in college this year, backed by a new array of talent which threatens to send last year's team to the side-lines. Probably four matches will be scheduled this year in addition to the annual Ozark Wesleyan tournament.

Back Row: Hammonds, Ross, Robertson, Beard, Northup, COACH, McGaughey, McNew.

Track

The record of the 1928 track team reveals the fact that Ozark Wesleyan scored 195 points to 148 for their opponents in three meets. The Lions gained decisive victories over the Fort Scott Junior College and the Southwest Baptist College in track and field meets at Carthage by the scores of 72 to 49 and 76 to 23 respectively. The Arkansas Freshmen, however, proved too much for the Lions, to handle in Fayetteville where the Ozark Lions received a 76 to 40 setback.

In addition to the intercollegiate meets considerable class interest within the college itself was manifested. The Freshman-Academy combination defeated the upperclassmen early in the spring to the count of 79 to 40. Track is a popular activity among the college men and a promising outlook for the cinder path events is to be seen this year with the return of many of last year's stars and numerous new material for the spring workouts.

Organizations

The Ozark Wesleyan Student Government Association Constitution was drawn up and accepted by the student body April 27, 1928. The purpose of the organization is to promote the general welfare of the college. The organization known as the Student Council has been efficient in this, its first year of function. It is now recognized as an indispensable organ in the future of the college. The Council is indebted to the faculty for their influence and help, the students for their cooperation and to Dean Hohn for his untiring aid and assistance.

The president, vice president, secretary and two members at large are elected by the student body at a poll election.

The Freshmen and Sophomore classes have two representatives elected by each class. The Juniors and Seniors have three representatives elected in the class elections. Representatives may be recalled at any time by two-third of the represented body. The president is always a Junior or Senior and officers are upper classmen.

The 1929 Ashlar Queen contest was sponsored by the council. the contest being on a financial basis. It was successful, the proceeds were used for the Queen's page, Hobo picture, and made possible the pebbling of the feature pages of the Ashlar. A balance of nearly fifty dollars was left in the treasury, this will go for some improvement which shall benefit the entire student body.

The Council made a set of rules for general conduct and since they went into effect order in the halls and library has been greatly and noticeably improved. These rules are not intended as restrictions, but for better conduct on the part of the students, and more pleasure for all.

The Council wishes success to the Councils of coming years, trusting that their offices may be made a pleasure and privilege by the cooperation of the entire student body and faculty.

On April 26, 1929 the student election was held for the ensuing year with the candidates as follows: President—Arthur Mitchell, Ralph Roland; Vice-president—Vernon Bradford, Percy Pierce; Secretary-Treasurer—Virginia Irwin, Christine Marsh; Council-men-at-large—Farris Davis, William S. Gray, Theodore Mermoud, and Louis Proctor. At 4:00 p. m., the polls were closed and the votes counted, revealing the fact that Roland and Bradford swept the election carrying as co-winners: Marsh, Mermoud and Gray. They will assume their offices at the beginning of the fall term.

In the near future the new council members (including the class representatives who are yet to be elected) will be entertained on a picnic by the 1929 Council.

HARRY A. WEAVER
President

Harry has been in many respects "the head-boy" in Ozark Wesleyan this year. He has served faithfully and earnestly in the capacity of student president, trying as best he could to unite the college students into one group all striving for Ozark Wesleyan and the advancement of the college rather than for personal gain. In this, he has certainly set a good personal example before the students. He has striven always to be fair and just and to present matters squarely before them.

We feel that, as the first student president in the college, he has shown that the organization is highly worth-while. Besides this office, Harry has held many honorable positions in the college during his four years here. He is president of the senior class this year, was a member of the 1928 foot-ball team, was an officer in the Philomathean Literary Society and is a member of the Ozark Wesleyan Choir.

He is an all-around good sport.

Here's long-continued success to our first student's choice. Good luck, Harry.

ARTHUR T. MITCHELL
Vice President

Arthur T. Mitchell, as vice-president of the Student Council, has undoubtedly shown his ability as a leader. During the absence of the president on two different choir trips, "Bob" guided the wavering ship of state through several stormy seas and by various perilous rocks. Bob is one of these level-headed fellows who does what he feels to be right, no matter whose toes he steps on, and yet he makes the fellow who is hit the worst really look up to him and admire him for his courage. He looks at a question not only squarely but from both sides and behind and only gives his opinion after carefully weighing all evidence. Having been a scout leader for several years, he seems to have thoroughly mastered the scout laws of preparedness, courtesy, helpfulness, honesty—and all the rest which are so much a part of a true scout. He is well-developed in all the lines of school-activity, being an honor student, an athlete as well as being a member of several societies and on the staff of the two student publications in the school. Yes, we think he is worthy of any and all honors conferred on him.

IDA MAY ALLENDORF

Ida has been on the editorial staff of the Wesleyan Whistler for two years. She averages an E in her scholastic work, which qualified her for an assistant in the mathematics department of the college. Also Senior representative on the Student Council.

O. W. C. has claimed Ida as a student for three terms and summer school. Everyone will miss Ida's ready smile as she departs from the portals of O. W. C. this year. A better girl never crossed the threshold of this college.

RUSSELL MCCAULEY

Early in October, 1927, Russell was appointed assistant business manager. In March of the second semester during the absence of the business manager. Russell as assistant manager assumed full responsibility of the business manager and succeeded so well that he was given the position in his own name throughout the rest of the semester and was the agency by which the college paper was again published on a paying basis.

Russell is an efficient student who has a smile, an announcement to make and time for a chat.

Whistler

The Wesleyan Whistler is the student publication of Ozark Wesleyan College; the paper has been an interesting and entertaining piece of information and reading material this year. The paper contained a variety of material, among the most noticeable were poems and feature articles written by Letha Allendorf, sister of the Editor.

The staff under the direction of the Editor and Associate have edited a paper worthy of the school's name. The paper is published in the college print shop and each student is entitled to an issue through his Activity ticket.

The Editor and Business Manager are elected by the student body. The Business staff have done excellent work in that the paper is put on an advertising paying basis. The success of the Whistler is largely due to the support of the Carthage business men.

Some of the most noticeable issues were the issue of November 19 which featured the dedication of King's Field on Homecoming day and the trip through the Ozarks by some of the science students. The Christmas issue was printed in green and red ink. Papers which played forth big headlines were red letter papers, such as the "Welcome" issue September 10, containing President King's picture; and Ashlar sale, January 14. The best balanced papers according to head line and article placement were as in order mentioned: March 11, a picture of the Ozark Wesleyan Orchestra headed the front page; January 21, had a two column styled front page; other pages of merit were February 11, September 24, and March 18, a regular scandal sheet.

The Whistler was first published in the fall of 1922, every year the paper has improved. Here's to the success of the succeeding Whistler's, a bigger and better paper.

La Tertulia met semi-monthly throughout the year at 7:30 p. m. in the college building. The programs were ordinarily composed of short talks on the geography, history, literature, art and customs of the Spanish speaking countries. Lively games and Spanish songs usually concluded the evening's entertainment. Occasionally the members of the club presented short plays.

Imaginary voyages were taken by means of lectures, pictures and souvenirs. Through the kindness of Mrs. Newton, the club learned a great deal about South America. Mrs. Davis, a native of Mexico City, proved very entertaining with her lovely shawls and other souvenirs.

La Marseillaise

Allons, enfants de la patrie,
 Le jour de gloire est arrive!
 Contre nous, de la tyrannie
 L'etendard sanglant est leve.
 Entendez-vous dans les campagnes
 Mugir ces ferores soldats?
 Ils viennent jusque dans nos bras
 Egorger nos fils, nos compagnes.

 Aux armes, citoyens! formez vos bataillons!
 Marchons, marchons!
 Qu'un sang impur abreuve nos sillons!

 Amour sacre de la Patrie,
 Conduis, soutiens nos bras vengeurs;
 Liberte, liberte cherie,
 Combats avec tes defenseurs.
 Sous nos drapeaux, que la Victoire
 Accoure a tes nobles accents!
 Que tes ennemis expirants
 Voient ton triomphe et notre gloire!

 Nous entrerons dans la carriere
 Quand nos aines n'y seront plus.
 Nous y tronverons leur poussiere
 Et l'exemple de leurs vertus.
 Bien moins jaloux de leur survivre
 Que de partager leur cercueil,
 Nous aurons le sublime orgueil
 De les venger ou de les suivre.

Those Who Wear The W

The "W" club is an association of letter men to encourage athletics.

Each succeeding year adds an ever increasing number of enthusiastic students who through participation, good sportsmanship and the observance of training rules qualify for membership on the honor roll of athletic achievement.

To those who are permitted to wear the college "W" fall the obligations and responsibility of establishing and maintaining a high regard for college loyalty, good sportsmanship and true citizenship.

It is not sufficient that this club merely foster athletic activities but initiate and lead in a constructive program that will further the ideals and aim of the college administration.

November

SUNDAY	MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY	FRIDAY	SATURDAY
				1 Upper classmen win from Freshmen 6-0 in inter-class football game.	2 The football squad gets the first open week-end since the season opened.	3 Vic Woods, captain of the basket ball team has returned to school. The girls are happy.
4 Several students attend the revival at the Baptist church to hear Rev. Kramer.	5 May the best man win! Feeling runs high.	6 Home Economics Club organizes. Several students hear election returns at Miss McCormick's. Hoover is elected.	7 Dr. King is very enthusiastic over the election.	8 "Little Women," presented by the Wesleyan Players, is a big success.	9 Russell McCauley is initiated into the Johnson Club.	10 Work, work, work! There is no rest for the wicked.
11 Armistice Day is the subject of speeches at the churches today.	12 Ditto—at school today.	13 A group of students go to the Shepherd of the Hills country with Prof. Reser.	14 The political not begins to boil for the Student Council election.	15 A surprise birthday party for Miss Lindsey is held a "little previous." Today is the day before—	16 Today is Home Coming Day. We beat Fort Scott which has won from one team by a 130-0 score.	17 Today is the day after—
18 The Wesleyan Choir sings at Webb City tonight.	19 Dean Hohn returned safely from the teachers' meeting in plenty of time to meet all his classes.	20 The Men's Glee Club organizes.	21 The German Club holds its first meeting, with five members present.	22 Freshmen elect Carl Jenkins president at their first "electable" class meeting.	23 The Lions scalp the Bacone Indians. Ralph Ross, the "galloping ghost," is the hero of the hour.	24 "Only five more days 'till Thanksgiving!"
25 The choir sings at Lamar tonight.	26 Arthur Mitchell is elected vice president, and Miss Allyne Dietz secretary of the Student Council.	27 The Philos initiate new members.	28 Vacation begins at 12:30 today in suite of the football game here this afternoon.	29 Thanksgiving Day. The Choir celebrated its first anniversary.	30 Everyone feels the effects of eating too much.

December

SUNDAY	MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY	FRIDAY	SATURDAY
						1 "Cheap cars would be all right if they weren't so expensive."
2 Prof. Miles begins a series of revival services at Bethel.	3 Vacation ends at 8:00 o'clock this morning.	4 A number of people from Joplin hear Friedburg at Joplin.	5 "A large number of students have not yet had their pictures taken for the Ashlar. Please see to this right away."	6 A group of speech enthusiasts hear Dr. Southwick's lecture on Shakespeare at Joplin.	7 The football letter men are introduced in chapel.	8 With English, Algebra, Chemistry, and etc., all to study on Saturday, how can a poor freshie have any fun?
9 It is perfectly "legitimate" to take "her" to church now.	10 Q. P.'s feed the hungry Lions at a banquet in their honor.	11 Wonder why the Lions looks so tame today.	12 M. U. has been closed for Christmas because of the "flu." Why can't we have some kind of an epidemic?	13 Basket ball starts with even worse luck than football, with a loss to the Pittsburg varsity team.	14 Miss Casebolt smiled in French today.	15 This day was a blank day -- we had an eclipse of the sun.
16 "I wouldn't even get change for a quarter for collection and here you want change for a nickel."	17 The Student Council's rules of order for the library conduct have long since been discarded.	18 Dr. Potts took in $98 for the college today.	19 Ralph Roland sang extra loud in chapel today.	20 The first annual Christmas party in the college is successfully directed by Miss Edna Robinson.	21 Vacation begins today at 4:20 p. m. "Merry Christmas, folks!" Winter begins today.	22 "Days of Absence."

January
SUNDAY	MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY	FRIDAY	SATURDAY
6 Jolly sledding weather, boys!	7 Q. P. "Hell Week" begins.	8 The O. W. negative debate team wins from the affirmative at the Philo open session.	9 All good flivvers go to a college town where they die. Witness, Billy Bowman's wreck.	10 Lions win in basketball from Bolivia, but lose in debate with Parsons.	11 The affirmative debaters lose at Parsons.	12 One month and two days before today, Mrs. Charles Spahr celebrated her (?) birthday.
13 Poor, some reckless drivers Sunday is a day of rest complete.	14 First Ashlar sale begins today - and the staff works till six this evening to get the first installment of pictures off to the contractors.	15 We beat Bolivia 36-11 there.	16 We beat Jeff City there, 43-24.	17 La Tertulia, the geography of Bolivia and South America at its regular meeting tonight.	18 The nerve of that guy eliciting me ten dollars a week! What does he think I am, a college graduate?	19 The nerve of that guy eliciting me ten dollars a week! What does he think I am, a college graduate?
20 The hills will be a lowly in his way, we are in a lowly week.	21 Mid-night oil burned.	22 Fire day of exams.	23 Second day of torture.	24 We enrolled second semester.	25 The boys have a party.	26 Five months and nineteen days from today is Elizabeth's birthday.
27 "One finds but little ingratitute so long as one is in a position to do good."	28 The Joplin Civic Music Club presents a program at Ozark Wesleyan.	29 Coel, Angus and Raymond have returned to O. W. from various excursions last semester. Now things will begin to happen!	30 Prof. Russell started his class alphabetically today, putting the "A's" in the back row.	31 Vic Wood is not going to quit school. "What will the girls do then, poor things?"

February

SUNDAY	MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY	FRIDAY	SATURDAY
					1 Vic plays his last basketball game for O. W. against Miami. Vic and John Beard sure make a fine team!	2 It snows almost all day.
3 Today is Macdalen Hendrix's birthday.	4 Dean Hohn lectures in chapel on "The Quiet Reading Room"	5 Four months from today and several years ago, Mrs. Sapp was the proud mother of little Henry.	6 And still it snows! We beat Draughton's team from Springfield 22-20.	7 Wilbur Longstreth is used to having his birthday in the spring at home, but the Arkansas Club picnic had to be postponed indefinitely because of the snow.	8 Miss Mary Lee Ritchie is elected Ashlar Queen.	9 Sleds are made; sledding is popular; spills are predominant on this day.
10 O. W. grieves over the death of Galen Beadle.	11 Dr. Potts tells the Student Forum of the "Value of Time."	12 Prof. Brewer, former brings the Central Wesleyan debaters here to fight the Lions.	13 Erma Campbell and Ruth Atkinson told the Y. M. C. A. about their "Ideal Boy," and Russell McCauley and James Fulton told the Y. W. girls of their "Ideal Girl."	14 "The Thirteenth Chair" is a huge success.	15 "A doctor declares that kissing shortens life. We presume he means single life."	16 "The optometrist at the cloud's silver lining; the pessimist looks at his brake linings."
17 Seven months ago, lacking two days was Francis Wisegarver's birthday.	18 Who wrote "A Mid-Winter Night's Dream?" The Fearless Photographer makes his first proof.	19 First February student recital is presented this afternoon at 3:30.	20 Y. M. and Y. W. Spahr's house tonight Webb's Harmonizers' make first appearance	21 The Spanish Club and basket ball conflict, but we beat the Joplin Demolays.	22 Washington's birthday Three day holiday begins at 11:20 today. Sothern recital tonight.	23 Ralph Grosshart is beginning his tennis practice early. Atta Boy, Ralph!
24 Prof. Fred Miles preached at Webb City today.	25 Second and last Ashlar sale begins today. It will last two weeks.	26 The Springfield District Y. M. C. A. volleyball tournament held here tonight.	27 Four months and one day from now Margaret Beard will celebrate her birthday.	28 New members of the Rho Alpha Honorary Society were initiated tonight.

March

SUNDAY	MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY	FRIDAY	SATURDAY

3 The choir sings at the Joplin M. E. Church, South.	4 Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. officers installed this evening. The same day President Hoover is inaugurated.	5 The String Trio presents a program at the Sarcoux High School.	6 Today was a beautiful day for Ida Alford's birthday.	7 Mrs. Julia G. Davis visited and entertained the Spanish Club tonight.	8 O. W. negative debate team beats Bolivar in dual debate.	9 "Lazy people are always anxious to be doing something."
10 A group from the college present a program at Oronogo tonight.	11 The Student Council rules of order are posted, and broken. The trio appears at Mt. Moriah tonight.	12 Angus Springer is convicted of writing "A Mid-Winter Night's Dream," and is sentenced to be guest of honor at the Philo annual banquet this spring.	13 The Home Economics Club put on a dress parade this afternoon.	14 The Wesleyan orchestra presented its second annual concert, with great success.	15 The first revolt. The Beta Zeta annual banquet was tonight. Not all the guests were Philos either.	16 Melva Stukeley received at least one present on her birthday last Thursday. That's the record of being happily married.
17 Today the Irish rule the earth.	18 Revolutions and upheavals!	19 These student meetings do interfere with a fellow's classes, don't they?	20 "The desire to appear clever often prevents our being so."	21 Dr. King returns from Rochester.	22 Spring arrives today! The choir leaves on Arkansas trip.	23 Tomorrow is Bennie Martin's birthday. You'd never guess he's not voted yet.
24 The choir sings at Picher, Okla. Several people, not choir members, made the trip from Carthage.	25 "The matter" is settled, at last.	26 Misses Benice Merrill and Inez Hagler appear in recital.	27 Three months and nineteen days from today is Merle McCray's birthday. (July 14.)	28 A month from today we can say "Happy Birthday" to Glenn Smith. (April 27).	29 Clyde Thomas will be a year older one month and nine days from today. (May 7).	30 Five months and seven days and twenty-some years ago Angus Springer's innocent face first was seen. (Oct. 22).
31 Cretura Boucher will	celebrate her (?) birthday a month and three days from today	day (May 2). Exactly five months	from April Fool's day is Cecil Colley's birthday. (Sept. 1).

Hobo Day

Once upon a time there was a town, an orderly town, laid out in checkerboard fashion. In the center of this said town stood a courthouse and atop of it was the town clock.

In the early morning all the family got up when the clock struck six. And at seven all the families ate breakfast. And as the clock boomed out eight, forth from these homes came the children: little children, medium size children and big children—all starting off to school. And the town clock smiled down on them and all went well.

But—one morning when the clock struck 1-2-3-4-5-6-7-8, out came the little boys and girls; out come the medium sized boys and girls—but where were the big boys and girls? The big boys and girls known as the students of Ozark Wesleyan College. The clock grew uneasy; minutes passed as hours, what could have happened to the big boys and girls. Then the town clock looked again. What was this? Yes Sir. Tramps, ragged and dirty and here a bunch of Gypsies evidently friends of these bums were taking the town by storm and conquest, true hobo fashion.

The clock looked disgusted, bewildered—and then he recognized these jesting frolicking tramps and gypsies as none others but the boys and girls of Ozark Wesleyan College, his beloved big boys and girls.

So with a sigh of contentment and relief he tolled the hours of that day which were the happiest day for Ozark Wesleyan Students of 1929—Hobo Day.

The National Guard

is a part of the first line of defense of the United States. As such, it is subject to the call of the President to repel invasion, or may be drafted by the Federal government to serve at home or abroad in the event of war. It also constitutes the state militia, and as such is subject to the call of the Governor to quell internal strife or disorder.

A Guardsman is a Good Citizen

In addition to practical military instruction, soldiers of the National Guard are taught law observance, loyalty, patriotism and other essentials of citizenship. Like the "Minute Men" of their nation's infancy, they are civilians following peaceful occupations, but they are prepared to take to the field and fight for the cause of freedom, democracy and justice at a moment's notice.

Roy: Where are you going?

Jay: Chemistry exam.

Roy: Going to take the acid test, eh?

Vernon Bradford: Did you know I was a life-saver last summer?

Virginia Bailey: Really what flavor?

OUR GUIDING STAR

O - zark Wes-leyan, Hail to thee, Hail to thee our col - lege dear!
 There is mus - ic in thy name To thy chil - dren one and all;
 When we turn to life of care, Woes of heart and toils of hand.

May thy sons and daugh - ters be True to thee from year to year.
 There is bless - ed mem - o - ry In each glist - ning mar - ble wall.
 May our mem - o - ries re - pair To thy lov - ly name and grand.

May thy state - ly tow'rs and high Seen from all the hills a - far
 Ev - 'ry spire points up to God While thy wel - come doors a - jar
 Let thy pre - cepts clear and true Guard our path - way near and far

Be an em - blem true Of a nob - ler view Wilt thou be our Guid - ing Star.
 Send a si - lent call Where thy bright rays fall Shin - ing from our Guid - ing Star.
 Like a pi - lot light Lead our foot - steps right, Be to us Our Guid - ing Star.

Words and Musical Arrangement by Professor B. B. Wood

This is station OWC. You have been enjoying the 1929 Ashlar. One more announcement before signing off 'till next year.

'I have been in the making for many months. I realize that I am far from perfect. It has been a pleasure and an experience for the students who built me. To all students, faculty, advertisers and townspeople who made me possible, I now extend my sincere gratitude.

'My desire and ambition is to please the students of Ozark Wesleyan College; if I do this, I am happy.

Good-bye, Good Luck and

Thank You!
